Dear Colleague Qiu,

It is a great pleasure for me to congratulate you cordially on the occasion of the 110th anniversary of the foundation of the Tsinghua University. On behalf of all the members of the Technische Universität Berlin I wish you and your institution further prosperous development in excellence and innovation.

Our universities have been linked through joint cooperation projects for over three decades now and we highly appreciate this distinctive, longstanding and trustful relationship. Tsinghua University is not only one of our oldest partners in China but also one of the most valuable ones. The fruitful collaboration has been successfully carried out with a lot of personal engagement and reliance. I am convinced that both the commitment and the success of our common activities will continue in the future and will beneficially contribute to the further advancement of the society.

I wish the Tsinghua University successful celebrations as well as interesting and valuable insights resulting from the Global Forum of University Presidents.
