Congratulations on Tsinghua University`s 110th anniversary

Dear President Qiu,

Warm greetings from TU Darmstadt!

We hope this letter finds you in good health. We were delighted to receive the invitation to Tsinghua University`s 110th anniversary celebrations and feel very privileged to have Tsinghua University as our valued cooperation partner.

Tsinghua University and the Technical University of Darmstadt can already look back to many years of a strong partnership on all academic levels. Your prestigious university is a popular choice for students from TU Darmstadt to spend an exchange semester and gain a deeper inside into the Chinese culture and learning environment, make new friends for a lifetime and create a foundation in developing the ties between our two universities.

We are convinced that our mutual research interest in various fields like cybersecurity and material science, our common appreciation of tradition and constant effort for further developments at the same time will lead us to many more years of a successful partnership. We are delighted that Professor Rödel had the opportunity to work as visiting professor at Tsinghua University, which among many other activities certainly further developed the ties between our two universities.

I would like to express my sincere congratulations on Tsinghua University`s 110th anniversary and your academic achievements that are truly impressive. Let me assure you that we very much look forward to our joint activities and to further developing mutually beneficial collaboration with your university.

Best wishes,

Die Präsidentin
