Subject: Invitation to Tsinghua University's 110th Anniversary Celebrations

Dear President QIU Yong,

Warm greetings from O.P. Jindal Global University (JGU), India.

We trust you and your colleagues at Tsinghua University are doing well and staying safe in these unprecedented and challenging times.

On behalf of the students, faculty members and staff at JGU, I extend our warmest wishes and heartiest congratulations on this special occasion of Tsinghua University's 110th Anniversary Celebrations. It is indeed remarkable for an Institution like yours to deliver quality education and research, and continue to do so for over a century.

JGU has always had a strong focus on Internationalization and we strive to integrate and impart the best in teaching and learning from around the world to our students, staff and research scholars. Towards this vision of globalizing education, we have created numerous meaningful partnerships with leading universities across the globe. In this view, we deeply value our long term partnership with Tsinghua University and are humbled to have had an excellent experience in terms of students and faculty-level engagements with such an esteemed Institution. We hope for continued collaboration with your University even in the future to continue to work together to enhance our academic ecosystems.

We would also like to express our special gratitude for the support of Tsinghua University for the growth and evolution of JGU as an institution of global excellence with its global offerings to students and faculty members. Our student mobility programmes with Tsinghua University are a true reflection of the outstanding cooperation towards students' engagement between both the Universities that is further supplemented by our cooperation at the faculty level.

I would also be happy to participate in the Global Form of University Presidents (GFUP) 2021 on this occasion and will have my colleagues coordinate further details with the GFUP team.

We once again congratulate Tsinghua University on this special occasion and look forward to our meaningful collaboration in the future.

With best wishes & profound regards,

Yours sincerely

Professor (Dr.) C. Raj Kumar
