Dear President Qiu,

It was with great pleasure that I learned of the 110th anniversary of Tsinghua University next year. Please allow me to congratulate you and all staff and students at Tsinghua University most warmly both on my behalf and on behalf of the University of Vienna on this significant milestone.

Since its founding in 1911, Tsinghua University has become one of the most prestigious institutions of higher education in the world. Now, on the occasion of the 110th anniversary, you can look back with pride on many thriving years of academic and institutional achievements. May Tsinghua University have an even brighter future, with many more years of excellence and success to come.

We greatly value our long-standing ties with Tsinghua University and look forward to continuing our productive cooperation in the years ahead.
