Dr. QIU Yong
President
Tsinghua University

Dear Dr. QIU Yong,

On behalf of the University of Victoria, I wish to offer my heartfelt congratulations to you and the entire campus community at Tsinghua University on the 110th anniversary of its founding in Beijing this April.

The University of Victoria is honoured to be connected to Tsinghua University and we highly value the partnership that began between our institutions in 2006. Over the last decade the University of Victoria has been fortunate to welcome numerous students from Tsinghua University to our campus on exchange and through the China Scholarship Council fellowship program.

Tsinghua University and University of Victoria researchers have collaborated to coauthor over 600 publications together in the last five years. Research collaborations in Physics and Astronomy and Engineering are especially strong.

From all of us at the University of Victoria, congratulations on this important milestone. We look forward to the ongoing partnership with Tsinghua University and continuing to further develop creative and collaborative opportunities between our two institutions.

Congratulations!

Yours sincerely,
