Dear President QIU Yong,

I was honored to receive your invitation to take part in Tsinghua University's 110th anniversary celebrations. This is a remarkable milestone in Tsinghua's long trajectory and I wanted to take a moment to reiterate how the University of Southern California cherishes our relationship.

Congratulations on the anniversary and all that this extraordinary institution has done for higher education in China and globally. We are inspired by your motto of "Self-discipline and Social Commitment" and hope it will lead us into further collaboration in the pursuit of excellence and innovation for society's betterment in the many years to come.

Sincerely,

Carol L. Folt
